ABOUT

Can you imagine an Italian pizza or a French croissant baked... without a dough? Or a pretzel pack with only salt left in the pack? Or a McDonald's with only meat & coke in menu?

Russia and Ukraine supply 28% of world wheat trade, 29% of barley, 15% of corn and 75% of sunflower oil. Due to Russian invasion, supplies have been suspended. The consequences will be catastrophic. And the question is only on the scale of the catastrophe and its geography.

By the end of 2022, when the film will be delivered, the hunger story will be more than actual for European, Asian, Middle East and African broadcasters.

MISSION

Make a wide world audience aware of an indirect effect of the war on a global food supply chains and describe the consequences that will reach every single inhabitant of the Earth.

THE STORY

Russia is rapidly destroying not only the peaceful cities of Ukraine, the aggressor is bombing granaries and blocking Ukrainian ports, which is why Ukraine cannot export the grain of the harvest of previous years. Only in the port of Odessa, 25 million tons of grain have been blocked, and overall due to the blocking of ports by Russia, Ukraine cannot take out 90 million tons.

In addition, according to official data, Russia stole about 400,000 tons of grain from the occupied regions of Ukraine. The threats of world food crisis and even of a hunger in some regions is another nonconventional weapon used by Russians in this war against humanity.

The combination of backstory (including Great Hunger of 1933), the current situation (with exclusive footage from Ukraine) and analysis & forecast from international experts will make the film unique and actual for world.

Ukraine's crucial role in the world food supply. 26 countries source at least half on imported wheat from Ukraine and russia. Ukraine is also the biggest supplier of sunflower oil to the world.
